

The University will provide a statement for all courses and fees anticipated for a payment period which represents half of the student's academic year. A payment period typically includes four courses. There are two payment periods per academic year. Undergraduate courses are generally five (5) weeks long and are taken one at a time. Your tuition for each course must be paid in full, or arrangements must be made and approved by the University, before you start class. The charges for your next scheduled course will include the appropriate rate for the course based on the rates and fees listed above. That cost will consist of the following: the tuition rate multiplied by the number of credits for the course, plus the resource fee and (for applicable programs) the portfolio fee. The charges for each of those rates and fees are listed in the tables above.

Degree-seeking students who are U.S. citizens or eligible noncitizens enrolled in an eligible academic program can apply for federal financial aid as a means of assisting with financing their education. Certificate programs may also be eligible for federal financial aid. If you are eligible for a loan guaranteed by the federal or state government and you default on the loan, both of the following may occur:

(1) The federal or state government or a loan guarantee agency may take action against you, including applying any income tax refund to which you are entitled to reduce the balance owed on the loan.

(2) You may not be eligible for any other federal student financial aid at another institution or other government assistance until the loan is repaid.

If you obtain a loan to pay for an educational program, you will have the responsibility to repay the full amount of the loan, plus interest, less the amount of any refund. If you have received federal student financial aid funds, you are entitled to a refund of moneys not paid from federal student financial aid program funds. Students receiving federal financial aid have varying rights and responsibilities in accordance with the Borrower's Rights and Responsibilities Statement, <http://www.direct.ed.gov/pubs/dlrights.pdf>, attached to the Master Promissory Note (MPN).

The University invoices students for all courses and fees anticipated for a payment period, which represents half of the student's academic year. A payment period typically includes four courses. Your tuition and resource fees invoiced are payable in full at the time of invoice or incrementally prior to the start of each applicable course. Your tuition must be paid in full, or arrangements must be made and approved by the University, before each applicable class.

You have the right to cancel your enrollment and obtain a refund of charges paid through attendance at the first class session, or the
